A LITTLE BIT MORE ABOUT THE BROKEN POT

Fragments of pottery crushed into the 'Stroom' of our 'Oude Dorp', speak of stories too long, to travellers, friends & lovers that have made the corner on Tom Street their own. From flying of the new flags ageless pacts arms exhausted all to build our city on the banks of the Mooirivier is what moves our restaurant to march on with the folks whose roots were planted here before the mid-1800's filling our souls with merriment and out bellies with scrumptious nourishment.

Others however, attribute the name to the word 'Potcherf', meaning Broken Pot, due to the cracks that appeared in the bed of the Mooirivier during drought resembling a broken pot.

The old photos of yesterday, make for a home for good friends to meet over a gold beer, or engage with a glass of wine.
